IS AN UMBRELLA A "DEADLY WEAPON?"

Ogden Justice Called Upon to Decide An Extremely Fine

Ogden, Oct. 22.—The case of the state against Samuel Halverson, local agent of the Sait Lake & Ogden Railroad company, charged with assault with a company, charged with assault with a deadly instrument upon the person of John Farr, a well known coal dealer of this city, was started in the municipal court before Judge Murphy. Mr. Farr was the first witness and told of meet-ing Mr. Halverson at the south inter-section. Mr. Washington, avenue, and was the first witness and told of meeting Mr. Halverson at the south intersection of Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street on Oct. 12 and having a discussion regarding the price at which local dealers were selling coal. Mr. Farr stated that after some little conversation, Halverson called him a "liar" and later upon the compilment being returned, Halverson struck him and he in turn struck back. The discussion had by now grown into a quarrel and after the lie had passed several times and a few blows had been struck, Mr. Farr claimed that he had turned to leave, and after going about 10 feet suddenly discovered that Halverson was rapidly approaching. Turning quickly about, he received a vicious jab from an umbrella, the blow striking him on the left temple, just in front of the ear. Dr. Ezra C. Rich testified to dressing the wound and stated that the cut was about half an inch deep and looked as if it had been made with a blunt instrument. Prof. John M. Mills, superintendent of schools, told of standing on the east crossing of the fitersection, in conversation with Geo. Mills, superintendent of schools, told of standing on the east crossing of the intersection, in conversation with Geo. S. Glen, and of having seen the blows and the final assault as described by Mr. Farr, although nothing which passed between them could be heard. George S. Glen testified to practically the same facts as Mr. Mills.

'Samuel S. Pride, an employe of Calvert & Leek company, told of being at the drinking fountain, but a few feet away from the participants when the assault was made with the umbrella. Mr. Pride stated that Mr. Halverson "jabbed the umbrella at Mr. Farr

RECENT DEATHS

FOLKMAN, MATILDA-Died, Plain City, Oct. 20, 1910, Mrs. Matilda Folkman, wife of Jens P. Folkman, one of the pioneers of Plain City, and a veteran of the hand car companies of early Utah history. Mattilda Funk Folkman was born in Bornholm, Denmark, on the 9th day of December, 1836. She joined the Mormon Church in 1854. In 1857 she was married to Jons P. Folkman, another convert of Mormonism, and they immediately made preparations to join the main body of the Church. On arriving at Florence, Iowa, they found themselves still thirteen hundred miles from thoir veteran of the hand car companies still thirteen hundred miles from their destination, and that across a track-less desert. But nothing daunted, they in connection with others fitted out a hand cart and commenced their long journey to the west, finally arriving at Salt Lake City, on the 13th day of Salt Lake City, on the 13th day of September, 1857; shortly after their arrival in Utah, they removed to Lehl, where they remained during the winter, and in the spring of 1859, they were among the first settlers to set foot on Plain City soil, where they have remained until the present time, ever true and loyal to their adopted land, Mrs. Folkman has taken an active part in Church affairs, and was a zealous member of the Relief society of the ward, holding every position from member to president. The deceased was the mother of 12 children, three of whom were triplets. Of the 12 children, five survive her, as does also her husband, Jens P. Folkman, 21 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The five children surviving her are the following: Geo. P. Folkman, Peter M. Folkman, Hober N. Folkman, Margaret Thatcher and Clarisa B. McMacken. Funeral services will be held at Plain City Sunday, Oct. 23, at 2 p. m., Bishop Henry Maw presiding September, 1857; shortly after their IAZENBY, ANNIE ATKINS—At 6 o'clock a. m. Oct. 15, 1910, Annie Atkinson Lazenby passed peacefully to her well carned rest, at the family residence, Loa, Wayne county, Utah. For a number of years she has been afflicted with rheumatism, and shally with dropsy, which was the cause of her death. All that medical aid and the with dropsy, which was the cause the hands of loving relatives and friends could do was powerless to keep her spirit in this world longer. She died as she had lived, cheerful and happy, with words of good cheer and comfort for her sorrowing husband, who is in ill health. The funeral services were held in the Wayne stake tabernacle at Loa, Utah, on the 16th inst. Elders Androw Sander, Matt. W. Mansheld and Joseph Eckersley spoke words of comfort to the bereaved, and commented upon the noble character and beautiful life of Mrs. Lazenby. The singing rendered by the tabernacle choir under the leadership of Prof. James Hood was especially appropriate, and a solo by Jamima Hood "Who are these arrayed in white" James Hood was especially appropriate, and a solo by Jamima Hood "Who are these arrayed in white" was rendered with good effect. At the cometery the choir sang an appropriate selection and Elder Jacob S. Bastlan offered the dedicatory prayer. Mrs. Lazenby was born at Doncaster, England, Jan. 5, 1843. She was converted to the gospel and Joined the Church in Hull, Yorkshire England, in the year 1899. Her husband, William Lazenby, emigrated to Utah, in the year 1895, and the year following she Joined him at Los. Utah, where they have since made their home. Mrs. Lazenby was a gentle, lovable spirit, and always had words of cheer and blessing for her relatives and friends who called upon her. She will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She leaves a husband, four children and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.—Millennial Star please copy.
